Noted Speakers Here for Religious Week

The co-chairmen of the Religious Emphasis Week committee, Rich Lappe and Ron Hornecker, have recently announced participating leaders and schedule for the twenty-fifth anniversary event. Religious Emphasis Week begins March 3 and will continue through March 7.

Rev. Monk Bryan D. D., Miss Joan Bott and Monsignor William Baum will speak on the theme "Religion in the College: Do They Mix?" Five Maryville ministers will participate in the religious activities of the week. Additional speakers include Nolen Ellison, Kansas University; Donal Evans, Maryville; Myron Meyer, Temple University; Joseph St. Joseph; and Hauser Winter, Maryville.

The 22 year old Education senior at the University of Kansas, Nolen Ellison, will speak on "Christianity and Athletics." Besides being a three year letterman in basketball, he is active in Christian youth work. Ellison was voted most valuable player at the Big Eight Tournament. He was all-conference Big Eight guard during the 1961-62 basketball season and was on the Big Eight Scholastic Team in Basketball. With 18 points per game Ellison was the leading scorer of the 1961 K. U. basketball team and was the leading scorer this year. But Ellison is not limited to athletics for he is a member and leader of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes at K. U. and is active in the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship.

Reverend Bryan is presently pastor of the Missouri Methodist Church in Columbia, having served the Maryville Methodist Church. He is a member of the World Methodist Council. Under the auspices of this council he was an exchange minister in England in 1956 and in Oslo, Norway in 1961.

Reverend Miss Joan J. Bott, Westminister Foundation, City, Iowa holds degrees from Mount Holyoke, Columbia and Union Theological Seminary and Divinity School of the University of Chicago. During the summer of 1961 she attended centers of renewal in church in Britain and on the continent with a European seminar. She has served on the Council of Racial Unity (CORE) and has been active in many religious groups throughout the country.

Rabbi Myron Meyer, one of the additional leaders for Religious Emphasis Week, is the rabbi of the Temple Adath Jom in St. Joseph. He graduated from Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati and holds a B. A. degree from the University of Cincinnati. The rabbi has traveled quite extensively through many parts of the world and is associated with several national charities.

To represent the Catholic viewpoint, Monsignor William Baum has been invited to speak. Monsignor Baum is the co-chancellor of the St. Joseph-Kansas City Catholic diocese. He is also a consultant to the Ecumenical Council in Rome which has been adjourned until September.

Religious Emphasis Week will begin with a fellowship supper on Sunday, March 3, with Rev. Bryan as speaker. Throughout the week those leaders taking part will address various classes and organizations. An opening assembly which will be on all-school affair is scheduled for 10:00 a.m. in the College Auditorium.

Personal conferences with any of the leaders may be arranged at any time throughout the week. Any person desiring such a conference should contact the individual leader or the co-chairmen of the personal conference committee, Sharon Burton or Karen Frazer. A book display will be set up in the hall of the Administration Building and at the library.

Spring Festival Begins March 13

The tradition of the Spring Festival of Fine Arts has served to enrich the cultural life of this college community. This season will prove to be no exception.

Faculty and students alike will participate as well as featured guests such as Basil Rathbone on March 18, and the Schola Cantorum from Conception Abbey on April 29.

Two full length plays will be produced. The first is Girl Crazy on March 13, 14, 15. The second is Blithe Spirit by Noel Coward on May 2 and 3. The final offering from the drama department will be an evening of one act plays on May 16.

Contributions from the music department will include recitals by faculty members. There will also be concerts by performing campus groups. The first of these is the Progressive Jazz concert on April 17. The concert choir will appear on April 23. The Band Concert is slated for May 10.

A total of three art exhibits promise to be outstanding. The first is a collection of photographs depicting French Sculpture of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. This exhibit is a loan from the French Embassy in New York and will be on campus from March 11 to the 23rd. The faculty exhibit will be on display from April 1 to 26 and the student work by senior art majors from May 1 to the 24.

Five Coeds in Tower Queen Contest

When 12:00 Noon, Monday, February 25, arrived five coeds had filed as Tower Queen candidates. The student body will vote for the annual Queen March 8.

An individual photograph of each girl will be published in the next issue of the Missourian. Campaign managers are reminded a wallet size picture must be submitted to the Missourian by Friday.

Four out of the five girls running for this honor are Iowa residents, with one lone Missourian. The candidates are being sponsored by the four sororities and the independent organization.

The candidates are Jean Benefiel, Cary Holst, Judy Hallum, Sharon Jeschke, and Marilyn Kay Pfeiffer.

Jean, a senior from Creston, Iowa, majoring in elementary education, is being sponsored by Delta Zeta. Her campaign manager is Lanny Paul.

Cary, senior English major, from Avoca, Iowa, represents Alpha Sigma Alpha. Roger Caudle is her campaign manager.

Judy, representing Sigma Sigma Sigma, is a junior from Corning, Iowa, majoring in history. Larry Reinke is her campaign manager.

Sharon, majoring in English, is the only Missouri girl, hailing from St. Joseph. Independent Student Organization is backing her with Ted Marr as the campaign manager.

Kay, a sophomore elementary major from Red Oak, Iowa, is sponsored by Phi Mu. Ellen Grube is the campaign manager.

The candidates will be introduced to the student body during the Harlem Globetrotters basketball game, March 8 in Lamkin Gymnasium.

"Famous Towers" Chosen as Theme For Annual Dance

"Famous Towers" has been chosen as the theme for this year's Tower Dance, which will be the evening of March 9. Planning the decorations for the event has begun for the dance. As with all events of this nature the decorations will be done by the appropriate committee of the Union Board. The committee is hampered this year in decorating because a basketball game has been scheduled for the night prior to the dance. Also appropriations in the budget were lowered, and the committee is operating on limited capital.

The Tower Queen will be announced during the festivities of the evening as she will have been elected the day before by the student body. Her attendants will also be announced. This dance is especially to honor the Queen of the Tower yearbook, and will be held in Lamkin Gymnasium.

Globetrotters Here Next Friday

Someone has estimated that more than 35,000,000 people all over the world have seen the Harlem Globetrotters display their unusual brand of basketball plus humor in their 36 seasons of consecutive activity—a figure that will be increased when the fabulous magicians of the court play the American Basketball League Stars Friday, March 8, at Lamkin Gymnasium.

The Globetrotters are fundamentally a basketball unit. They get the best Negro players available and pay this talent according to their skill. Then the "Trotters" blend in this mixture of talent with careful comedy routines designed solely to exhibit the exactness of the court game. When it's all over, it's amazing how the Trotters play night after night, declared Ernie Banks, a Chicago Club baseball star, after touring with the club for a month, "and still play the high class brand of basketball that they do. They run all day and all night and never seem to tire."

The amendments concerning the election of student body president and vice-president and union board chairman was passed by the Senate at the Senate meeting February 21. The amendment concerning the student body president and vice-president has been changed from "who shall be an undergraduate at the time of election" to "who shall not be within thirty-five (35) academic hours of graduating."

The amendment concerning union board chairman and vice-chairman read "... must have over fifty academic hours." A phrase has been added, so that it reads "... must have over fifty academic hours but not within thirty-five (35) academic hours of graduating."

Band Concert Wednesday

The NWMSC Concert Band left early Monday for the annual band tour of various high schools in Missouri and Iowa. Under the direction of Mr. Ward Rounds, the band presented a variety program of different types of music from various periods.

The group returned to Maryville today and will present a College Concert in Lamkin Gymnasium, March 1 at 7:30 p.m.

As of press time the Concert will be held immediately before the Sadie Hawkins dance. The concert was scheduled for an earlier date but complications made this impossible.

Scholarship Cups Awarded

Scholarship in the Men's Dorms will hereafter be awarded. Mr. James Middleton, counselor-trainer, has taken it upon himself to award a cup to the person with the highest grade point for the semester. Working with Dean Jack Lasley and Assistant Dean Ralph Messerli, Mr. Middleton announced last semester that the scholarship contest would be instituted to promote scholarship achievement among the men.

When the final grades were issued, it was necessary to award not one, but two, cups to deserving individuals. Roger Halleck of Perry, Iowa, with eighteen hours of A and Glenn West, St. Joseph, with sixteen hours of A were awarded the cups.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Another Tower Queen will be elected next week. She will follow a long line of NWMSC coeds who have been chosen for this honor. But very few know the history and tradition behind this annual occasion.

The first Queen of the Tower yearbook was crowned in 1923. Each of the four classes nominated two choices for Queen. The Queen and four attendants were selected from the nominees by a well known celebrity of the time . . . And, if you notice there wasn't a ballyhoo election.

In 1935 the Tower staff joined forces with the Missourian staff, and the Queen was announced at the "Scoop" Dance.

The Queen was elected by the student body for the first time in 1940. The candidates were nominated by the Missourian and Tower staffs. The Queen was crowned at midnight and then reigned over the remainder of the dance.

But, now, 1963, another razzmatazz campaign is necessary to choose the recipient of this illustrious honor. The supporters of each candidate will face a siege of poster painting, sign making and vote begging.

Confidently speaking, not only for myself but for the majority of students on this campus, elections are a lot of nonsense and waste of time. This, of course, does not mean class officers or Senate elections. But, as for Queen contests . . .

This is so much crying over spilled milk. The rules have been written and approved. But, to those organizers of campaigns, how about taking it a little simpler and a little easier on the students this time? Don't spoil the honor of being Tower Queen with campaign bribes. Votes are not supposed to be for sale. This isn't the way the Tower Queen was meant to be chosen.

Inquiring Photographer

In an attempt to arouse student interest in the forthcoming Religious Emphasis Week the Inquiring Photographer this week asked the question "What do you think should be done for Religious Emphasis Week?" It has been the concern of many in the past that the week long event has failed in some way to reach the majority of students on this campus. This may be true as evidenced by the fact that after the first all-school opening assembly the attendance at these meetings has been poor. In an effort to stimulate better participation this year the committee has chosen a more collegiate theme and has invited religious men and women of note to attend.

Mary Cagwin, Clemons, Iowa, junior, major: intermediate elementary education.

"I feel that it should be publicized more. As a transfer student, I have heard very little about it."

David Thomas, Marshalltown, Iowa, junior, major: marketing.

"I don't think the college should do anything. Religion is a personal thing and this is not a church affiliated school."

Don Gibson, Albany, Missouri, junior, major: industrial arts.

"I think it should be done the way it has been done in the past years."

Barb Combs, Clearmont, Missouri, junior, major: elementary education.

"There is nothing wrong with the actual program as it is set up. Students should be better prepared for it."

Lowell Wright, Bolckow, Missouri, senior, major: business.

"Since too many students don't attend the sessions, I think more publicity should be given to the whole program."

Sharon Carroll, West Des Moines, Iowa, sophomore, major: business.

"It might help if they had discussion groups or classes to instruct you in other religions in order to promote better understanding and tolerance."

Katy Seely, Atchison, Kansas, senior, major: English.

"I don't think anything should be done. If they don't have the basic background now, it's too late."

John Mobley, Carrol, Iowa, senior, major: biology.

"I think this is a time for students to get close to their church and really think about their obligation to their beliefs."

HELP WANTED

A general meeting for all people interested in the campus radio station KDLX will be held Thursday, February 28 at 6:30 p.m. in the south section of the main Union Lounge.

All people wishing to work for the station or who want to know more about it are welcome to attend the meeting which will be under the direction of Gary Matthews, station manager, and Dennis Mathes.

ALL THAT JAZZ

An Olive for the Cad

(This article, written by former editor Bob Lafferty, was originally published in a 1960 Northwest Missourian)

Maybe we have acquired a case of creeping claustrophobia. Or perhaps the snow-covered signs of spring have driven the winter bird watchers association indoors. Whatever the cause, gang, the crowd seems to be growing.

We had previously thought the haze around Our Favorite Corner of the Den was impenetrable but a stranger appeared in our midst the other day, his hands folded in a neat bundle behind his back and wearing a face full of teeth that looked like a reject from an Ipana ad.

"Hey dad, dig the creature," somebody whispered in our direction. "It must be a freshman. Like, it's wearing socks."

We nodded toward the creature and cut a question mark in the air with an upraised eyebrow.

"I'm Melvin," it announced brightly, "and I'm looking for a girl with a southern accent who called me a few nights ago and said to meet her here if I wanted a date."

"Oops!" That came from The Crazy Chick who was melting into a small puddle under the table. "If anybody calls, I'm out."

TCC had been playing little games again and this was a chance to throw in a joker.

"Pull up a coffee cup and sit," we offered, waving toward a chair with one hand and rubbing the teeth marks in our ankle with the other. "May-haps we can assist. Add some details."

"She told me her name was Merry Holaday," he said without slackening his grip on the grin, "and she had seen me around and just thought I was the cutest thing and wanted to go out with me and I'm in a hurry because I left my 1960 Cadillac convertible running outside and I've got to leave if I'm going to get to Kansas City in time for the jazz concert for which I have two tickets and was going to ask Merry to go with me."

We had asked for some details and this guy was trying to out-stream-of-consciousness Kerouac.

"Why, Melvin, honeylamb," TCC had rematerialized. "Don't you recognize little ol' me? Ah'd just be plumb honored to accompany you in your 1960 Cadillac convertible to Kansas City to hear the jazz concert. Like, man, let's make it."

That's the trouble with our decadent society. People are losing their sense of values. Imagine, selling out for a 1960 Cadillac convertible. By the way, we noticed a girl driving around campus in a Jag the other day. Now maybe if we . . .

This week's "one to be repeated"—Jim Cook, impresario of the local movie palace, informs us that a man who made his millions in the filtering business has willed his brain to the college. Not only will it add prestige to the local biology department, says Jim, it will put NWMSC in a rather unique position—the first college to have a filtering man's thinker.

The usual excuse around a newspaper office when a misspelling, misquote or any other mistake pops up is, "Couldn't help it—typographical error, you know." Of course they should be caught by the proof-reader and we were acting in that capacity on the last edition when we discovered a true gem. In a typical goof of the print shop, someone had combined the headline intended for this column with one over a story on page four. The resulting beaut was: "AWS to Hold Mass Meeting—Decisions, Always Decisions."

And so, 'til we crawl over the back fence, keep your head down, and all that jazz.

Sparkle in that generous sun, you metal scintillation of yellow and black clover leaf denote the refuge of the unfortunate Mark sanctuaries of heaven from hell, do you? If we should have to trust you, would you deceive us? Would you draw 800 people down to run two weeks around a track and live the while on towel sandwiches? Would you sen the rest to stand like cattle on the first floor of the Ad. Building and employ the relics of a carefree past to till the fertile hall? You wouldn't send anyone to the Den, would you? Not where they should stand their only chance. Sign, you are a mirage, ugly and dispicable and too easily discernable.

When the ol' Stroller found this little ditty scribbled on the wall there, she began to wonder what was happening. The words were much too long for the location. But, a gift is a gift, and this set your epitome of sagacity to ponderance.

Looking into the matter of the dutiful signs, your ace eyeballer discovered them to be an eyesore. This was only at certain distances, however, ranging between 5 and 500 feet. It must be admitted, though, that these signs do break the monotony of the brick. It would seem to an outsider that NWMSC was endowed by a great brick-head. But what of the idea and physique of the fallout shelter?

What is not, is not, and probably will not be. Contrary to popular belief, there is not an adequate fallout shelter anywhere on this campus; only one is even close to being acceptable. The Den is stocked with "food" and is well-buried. That is all that can be said for it as a fallout shelter. The large open entrance to the Den would be a serious problem. Providing the recommended facilities there or elsewhere on a large enough scale to prove effective would be financially impossible. In other words, the signs are a farce and useful only as a reminder. I mean forget it.

The whole policy of Fake-out Shelters is something like organizing a search party for a Horse still eating hay in the barn. This search party is composed only of blind men who assume the Horse will go northeast when he leaves.

* "A" average.

What if he doesn't?

Of course the whole problem is to keep that fabulous thoroughbred, Hy-d-r-o-g-e-n Horsepad, in his nice safe stable. There is no stable gate. Every diplomat racks his popous head working for a solution when the answer is apparent. Why not a Gate-Guarding Party, with twelve ounce transfusions of Elan for all?

All the world's problems can be reduced to dry dust—the world needs more fun parties. As a citizen of the world, you can take your place beside others helping to make NWMSC the center of earthly rejuvenation. Look upon it as your duty to the human race.

Eventually international party teams will be formed, and a league set up for blast-offs on that level. Competition will be friendlier as play progresses, and party farms will be established on a graduated scale, much like the baseball Minors, all the way to the backwoods. Fan clubs will be formed for the World's Champion Clugger-Lugger—a tremendous personality.

Unbelievable crowds will form to watch the professional bashers, and the "lost weekend" will become the supreme art. And when the whole world reaches this rabid state, and the "bottoms" of the atomic age are forgotten, someone will stagger and fall on one of them, and the game will be all over—but nobody will care.

Just think—he doesn't care because he thinks you don't care.

A meeting was held between the women in Dearmont Hall and the assistant Dean of Students as the result of publicity about "Barring Cupid's activities."

"They discussed banning all men from the building and having 'Necker Checkers.' The women voiced the opinions that they alone should not shoulder Cupid's burden, and that the young men should be aware of this problem and take some responsibility."

Cape State fears they will become known for banning kissing rather than for their athletic or debate teams.

Jazz Group Featured in Arts Festival

It is always a pleasure to listen to a well informed person discuss his pet project. This reporter gained just such pleasure from interviewing Mr. Earl Moss on the Progressive Jazz group of which he is director.

The object of the group is to play not dance music but the type developed by such artists as Stan Kenton. In fact, many Kenton compositions are used. The music, is of a more serious nature than that played by many big name bands.

To accomplish their aim of "expanding musical horizons" the band employs some rather unusual devices. Among these is the use of instruments not usually found in a jazz band.

Besides the brass, there are eighteen reed instruments used in the band's repertoire. These eighteen reeds are all played by only five of the musicians in the band.

The seventeen members of the group and their soloist, Rosemarie Adams, will make their first appearance at the Festival of Fine Arts Program in the later part of April.

This concert will include, other than the Kenton arrangements, two original numbers by Mr. Moss. There will be two selections in the new bossa nova rhythm. One of these is also a Moss composition. Then, "to get back from way out," there will be arrangements by Les Brown and Woody Herman.

May We Present

Many students who had enrolled in the Humanities under an unknown instructor first glimpsed tall, easy-going Mr. Charles Fry when he pushed open the door for their first class meeting. Since then the pipe-smoking, Mr. Fry has dispelled any apprehensions they might have had with his stimulating lectures.

A native of America's heartland, Mr. Fry took both his B.A. and his M.A. degrees from Wichita University in History and English before seeking out Southern California's offerings. He worked on his doctorate in English History at UCLA, then, until NWMSC called. It was the change of pace in living and the friendliness of the people which he noted most upon his return.

Sailing is one of Mr. Fry's favorite hobbies and one which he naturally misses here, as do his wife and three children. The writing of poetry has become his hobby forte, with painting a close second. Mr. Fry is also among the ranks of the book collectors, being primarily interested in works of English history.

Folk music fanciers will be interested to know that he has spent two summers in the Ozarks collecting this type of music and studying it and its place on the scale of musical evolution.

This summer Mr. Fry plans to spend in research on the period of restoration of the Stuarts in England (1660-1714) at the Huntington Library, in California, working on his dissertation.

NEWS EXCHANGE

This article originally appeared in the Feb. 5 issue of the San Jose Mercury.

FRESHMEN at University of Santa Clara completed registration for the second semester yesterday, but not until three squads of police were called to quiet them down about 5 a.m. yesterday morning.

Impatient students began forming a line about 10 o'clock Sunday night — eager to be first to register for choice classes when the doors opened at 9 a.m. Monday.

Throughout the night the raucous serpentine line grew until a pair of campus police called for reinforcements in the form of three squads of city police.

Undaunted, but quieted down, most of the frosh kept their vigil at the on-campus registration office.

A university spokesman said there was no logical explanation for the students' impatience, except that they might have been touched with a bit of spring fever during the balmy night.

The Snapper reports that the State College at Millersville, Pa. initiated an experimental approach to the teaching of freshman English last fall.

The professors meet on masse with all of the English sections one day a week. The other two days the group is divided into smaller sections. The theory of composition is the topic of study.

The small groups use an overhead projector which provides a means of quickly presenting previously prepared material to the students within a matter of seconds.

PEM Club Elects Officers

Karen Frazer was elected president of the Physical Education majors on February 4.

Other officers are Sherry Spoor, first vice-president; Karen Ott, second vice-president; Mary Brannan, secretary-treasurer; Sharon Thomas, reporter; Marion Smith, intra-mural chairman; Rhodetta Mardesen, and Linda Greenwood, intra-mural co-chairmen; Kathy Bogdas, volleyball chairman; Ann McCalla, co-chairman; Judy Woverton, softball chairman; Dianna Campfield, co-chairman; Joan Lynch, bowling chairman; Barb Thompson, co-chairman; Barb Chick, basketball chairman; and Ginger Barnes, co-chairman.

The officers were installed February 18 and will serve for the 1963 school year.

College Landmark Changed

Several tons of brick crashed into several parked cars at Northwest Missouri State College yesterday as the age old smokestack collapsed. NO, this didn't actually happen, but this smokestack has long been near falling.

From its vantage point high above the NWMSC campus, the stack has towered over a growing college. Thousands of students have enjoyed the warmth evidenced by the smoke billowing from this smokestack. It remains today as one of the ever-decreasing remnants of the original school. From this point of view, it possesses a certain amount of sentimental value to the student body, the alumni and the faculty.

But today, just as new classrooms are replacing the old and new dormitories are being constructed, so this outdated smokestack is being replaced.

A local construction company has been contracted by the Board of Regents to remodel this college landmark. This facelifting job should not be taken as the destruction of a college tradition. Instead, it should be viewed as insurance against the possibility of the imaginary news story above actually happening.

Cor Angelus to Music Dept.

A cor angelus has been added to the instruments of the music department.

The English horn, as the cor angelus is commonly called is one of the rarer instruments of the double reed family which consists of instruments such as the oboe and the bassoon.

A sonorous, mellow nasal tone characterizes the English horn which is used chiefly in solo passages.

One is probably most familiar with the use of the English horn in the "Going Home" passage from the New World Symphony by Dvorak where the English horn plays the melody.

Watch for the appearance of the cor angelus in forthcoming presentations of the music department.

Rules for Reading

(ACP)—Anyone can read "Playboy" magazine in private. But reading it in public takes adherence to the following rules, as set forth by THE STUTE, Stevens Institute of Technology, Castle Point, Hoboken, New Jersey.

The first step is to look at the cover and carefully consider what you expect to get out of the magazine. Now, change your attitude completely. Begin to think of yourself as a cut or two above the average man. This is the correct mental attitude.

Tilt your nose slightly upward. Skim the articles, putting in an occasional "Hmmm" or an "Ah," but not too loud. If you turn the page and suddenly find a rather revealing photograph, watch yourself. Turn the pages at regular intervals, with a careless abandon, as if the pages present nothing unusual.

As you close the last page, pause for a minute. Put the magazine down somewhat carelessly and say, audible to those around you but not conspicuously so, "That's a good magazine." Then stand, put your pipe in your mouth, light the pipe, comb your mustache and leave the room.

Bearcat Song Dates Back to Normal Days

Georgia Tech has its "Ramblin' Wreck" and the Rose Bowl victors have their "On Wisconsin." Not to be outdone NWMSC has its "Alma Mater," a traditional part of college life which dates back to 1922.

During its younger days when NWMSC was a Normal School, the college had a long list of songs which were popular with the student body. But these failed to make the transition when the school became Northwest Missouri State Teachers College.

Mr. Charles R. Gardner, head of the music department at the time, introduced a song of his own to his music students. By "chain letter" distribution the song was learned by the students. And on October 4, 1922 the student assembly sang the "Alma Mater," but not quite as we know it today. During the course of time the second stanza proved to be unpopular with the students and was dropped.

The men and women of Northwest Missouri State College sing the following version of the song:

ALMA MATER

Let your voices loudly ring, echo far and near,
Songs of praise thy children singing to thy mem'ry dear.

Alma Mater! Alma Mater!
tender, fair and true;
Grateful sons with love un-
failing all their vows renew.
Years may dim our recollection, Time its change may bring,
Still thy name in fond affection, evermore we'll sing,
Alma Mater! Alma Mater!
tender, fair and true;
Grateful sons with love un-
failing all their vows renew.

Bearcats Topple Nebraska U., 14-11

Coach Jerry Landwer's Northwest State College grapplers continued their mastery over Big 8 teams Wednesday night when they defeated visiting University of Nebraska wrestlers 14-11.

The Bearcat mat team, now 12-1, tripped the University of Missouri Tigers here, 21-8. The win Wednesday in a measure avenged the only loss the Bearcats have listed, a loss to another Nebraska team, Omaha University, in their third outing of the season.

The opening match, which resulted in a draw, set the stage for the close affair. It was a battle of 123-pounders and Harvey Hallum, Maryville, and Steve Walenz, Nebraska, went through three 3-minute periods and shook hands after a 2-2 count at the end of the match.

Mike Nissen, Nebraska's 130 pound AAU star, posted a 3-1 win over Maryville's Larry Kilmer, but not before the MSC grappler extended the Husker who took third in the national AAU meet in his weight class at Stillwater, Okla., last year.

Another high point of the match was the fine performance turned in by Dave Moore, 167-pound Maryville captain and twice winner of the Missouri Valley AAU crown for his weight class.

Moore posted a 10-0 decision over Ken Fox of Nebraska. After Nebraska jumped to a 5-2 lead in team score, Maryville came back and took four straight decisions for a 14-5 lead. The Huskers took the two remaining matches by decisions.

NWMS (14) Nehr. (11)
The results:
123 lbs. — Harvey Hallum, M, drew with Steve Walenz, N, 2-2.
130 lbs. — Mike Nissen, N, decided Larry Kilmer, M, 3-1.
137 lbs. — Ron Betts, M, decided Chuck Martin, N, 4-0.
147 lbs. — Lonny Wieland, M, decided Dick Van Sickle, N, 8-3.

157 lbs. — Ray Nunneley, M, decided Bruce O'Callaghan, N, 5-2.
167 lbs. — Dave Moore, M, decided Ken Fox, N, 10-0.
177 lbs. — Mike Tillotson, N, decided Tom Croxell, M, 3-1.
Hwt. — Don McDermott, N, decided Ken Peterson, M, 1-0.

Baseball Practice Begins

Baseball Coach Burton Richey met with approximately 35 baseball hopefuls last week in preparation for the coming season.

Regular practice sessions started Monday in Lamkin Gymnasium. Anyone planning to come out for the squad should contact Coach Richey immediately.

THEY'RE OFF. Four unidentified swimmers hit the water in the Maryville-Concordia swim meet. The Bearcats spashed their way to a lopsided win 63-30 and set four varsity records in the process. (Photo by Myers)

Wrestling Squad Entered In Mo. Valley AAU Meet

The highflying NWMS Bearcat wrestling team will be one of the top participants in the Missouri Valley AAU Tournament in Hays, Kansas, Mar. 1-2. Several Big Eight teams will compete, plus other area powers.

Coach Jerry Landwer singled out Kansas State and the host team, Fort Hays as two of the top teams in the meet. Kansas U. and Missouri U. will also offer tough competition for the Bearcats.

'Cats Strong
Maryville, boasting a strong 13-1 slate, will send their entire squad to the tournament, according to Coach Landwer. The only smudge on the 'Cats' record is Omaha U., and this defeat was the result of a forfeit by Maryville in the heavyweight division. Since that time, however, Ken Peterson has filled that gap after coming out for the team.

The Bearcats were quite impressive in posting wins over two Big Eight teams, Nebraska and Missouri. The 'Cats whipped M. U. twice. In defeating the Nebaskans, the 'Cats also proved themselves. Although the final score was fairly close, 14-11, Dave Moore and Ron Betts came within a hair's breadth of pinning their opponents. This would have made the final score 18-11, a rather safe margin in wrestling.

Moore Outstanding
Leading the Bearcats in the AAU meet will be Dave Moore, team captain, and twice winner of the Missouri Valley AAU top wrestler award. Moore has taken his division title two years in a row in addition to copping the outstanding wrestler award. Although Moore has been wrestling in the 167 pound class, he may move down to 157 pounds for the tournament. However, this is only tentative at present.

Other leading grapplers for Coach Landwer are Harvey Hallum, 123 pounds; Norm LaButti, 137 or 147 pounds; Arnold Thompson, 147 or 157 pounds; Ray Nunneley, 147 or 157 pounds; Larry Kilmer, 130 pounds; Ron Betts, 137 pounds; Rich Hoyt, 130 pounds; Tom Croxell, 177 pounds, and Ken Peterson, heavyweight.

Lonnie Wieland has been wrestling in the 147 or 157 pound division since the semester break and has been quite impressive. Wieland is rounding into top shape after a two year lay-off from the mats. In the Tarkio meet two weeks ago Wieland made his debut with a 30-second pinning of his opponent. In the Nebraska meet, he easily won and was the aggressor throughout the match.

Coach Landwer commented on his team's chances in the meet: "We certainly have our work cut out for us. Not only are several strong teams entered, but a number of individual wrestlers unattached to a competing team will probably be entered in the competition. These men can come from anywhere in the country, not just from the Missouri Valley area, if they get their temporary release from their own team."

The 'Cats' mentor added that he was unsure of several of the boys weight divisions for the meet at present. He will not enter a 191 pounder in the meet since there is no one on the roster in this class. Also, he thought that Harvey Hallum might possibly drop to the 115 class in order to enter a man in that division.

Cat Tales...

With Marv Bell

Just another reminder about the Harlem Globetrotter game . . . tickets are going out at a rapid rate, according to Dr. H. D. Peterson.

The tickets can be purchased in the P. E. offices in Lamkin Gymnasium, at B. & W. Sporting Goods downtown, or from any of the coaching staff members.

March 8 is the date. Plan for an evening of entertainment and top flight basketball.

The wrestling team did an outstanding job in defeating their two Big Eight foes, Missouri and Nebraska.

Although they had little trouble in twisting the 'Tigers' tails, the 'Cats did have a little trouble in catching the Cornhuskers before the Nebraska could crawl off the mats.

Wrestling is supposedly done on the mats. All we can say is that the Nebraska Cornhuskers must have rather calloused knees.

It's certainly an unfortunate incident when teams entered in the intramural basketball competition fail to show for their games. This has happened a number of times, according to Larry Hagan, intramural director.

Not only do the 'fickle' teams have to forfeit the contest, but it is quite disheartening for the team which turned out for the game, dressed, and warmed up, only to win by forfeit.

We realize that fraternity rush week kept some teams from playing on certain nights, but not all of the teams can use this for an excuse. Hagan stated that any team with two forfeits on its record stands a good chance of being eliminated from future scheduled games.

The Bearcats' highly impressive win over Kirksville on the Bulldogs' home court assured Coach Marion Moss' charges of finishing above .500 for the season.

Now sporting a 12-10 record, the 'Cats will move into Kansas City to take on the rugged Rockhurst club, a team which has already cinched a spot in the NAIA National Tournament.

We predict that the Moss-men will also surprise the Rockhurst Hawks tomorrow night. The Bearcats have much more balanced scoring than they displayed in their first tilt with the Hawks. All five starters have now reached the 20 point mark at least once during the season, and Rich Woods has been in the double figures several times, although seeing limited duty.

Swim Squad Adds Two Wins

The NWMS Bearcat swimming team picked up two wins over the week by blasting Concordia, 63-30, and following with a conquest of Washburn, 55-40.

Concordia Meet
In the Concordia meet, four new individual team records were set by the Bearcat swimmers. Co-captains Bob McCoy and Ed Atkins, plus squad members Ed Smith and Frank Fisher set the records.

Although several of the races were fairly close in the Concordia meet, Maryville was going away. The four record wins and the other combined place finishes in the other events gave Coach H. D. Peterson's tankers their win.

Washburn Follows
In the Washburn meet, the Bearcats jumped to an early lead and added to it throughout the other events to secure their win.

The Maryville victory came through a balanced attack as several men placed in more than one event, chalking up important place-finishes for added points.

Globe Trotters here . . Mar. 8
Dr. H. D. Peterson estimated that almost three-quarters of available Globe Trotter tickets had been sold by yesterday morning.

Conference play lists Bud Vallino of Warrensburg and Lester Selva of Kirksville second and third in conference scoring, with Vallino and Carl Ritter of Cape Girardeau behind the leaders in all games.

Paul Lizzo, Dick Rishel, and Don Drake are listed in the conference's top twenty scorers with Rishel coming on strong in the late stages of the season.

Jim Good of Rolla and Bill Giessing of Cape lead the conference and all games rebounders with 11.7 and 12.7 caroms per outing, respectively. Voss is second in the conference and fourth in all games with 10.6 and 11.3 averages.
